Tornadoes Strike in 9 States

Death, Injury For Midwest

By United Press International
Killer tornadoes and hurricane-force winds slashed through sections of nine states Monday and early today, claiming at least eight lives and injuring 145 persons.

Illinois had five dead. Michigan listed one fatality and Indiana reported two.

Illinois had at least 50 persons injured. Indiana had at least 43 persons injured, 40 of them in South Bend. Michigan reported 25 injuries. Five were hurt in Ohio and one in Fenton, Mo. Kentucky had 18 injuries. Arkansas had three.

Tornadoes also raked Texas and damaging winds hit western Pennsylvania. Flash floods were reported in St. Louis, Mo., suburbs.

Collapse of a school roof at Springfield, Ill., killed to 12-year-old boy. A similar accident at Shedd, Ill., injured a teacher and two students.

An elderly man suffered a fatal heart attack when an unconfirmed tornado skipped through West Frankfort, Ill. A young stone mason was struck and killed by a falling grain elevator at Frankfort, Ind.

Crashes Through Roof

Two persons were killed when an advertising sign came crashing through the roof of a Rancoul, Ill., supermarket Monday. A workman died when a wind toppled a chimney at a Pontiac, Ill., stone works. An elderly woman guest lost her life when a hotel roof caved in at Pontiac, Mich.

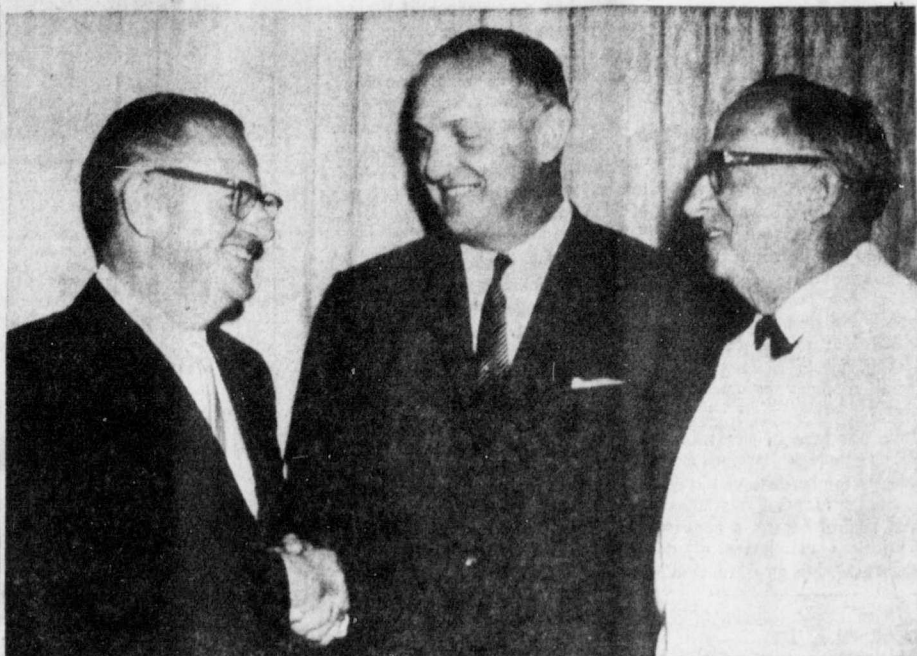

A man who was dashing to shelter from the South Bend, Ind., storm darted in front of a car and was killed.

Averts Major Tragedy

Hospital power failures hampered treatment of the injured at South Bend, Ind., Three Rivers, Mich., and West Frankfort, Ill.

In Three Rivers, Mich., more than 200 trees were uprooted and more than half the homes in the city damaged.

Authorities at Springfield, Ill., credited principal John Cautt with averting a major tragedy at the McClelland School, where Gary Keller, 12, was killed when the roof of the three-story brick building collapsed. Cautt held most of the 375 children in the basement cafeteria until just before the storm struck. "I thought a plane had hit the school," Cautt said.

BOOST LOCAL BUSINESS was the message delivered by David Porter, center, in an address before nearly 200 civic leaders last night at the second annual Coachella Valley Economic Development Conference.

Supervisor George Berkey, left, introduced Porter and three other expert speakers. Joel Stone, right, chaired the session at Hotel Riviera.

NEWS in BRIEF

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The commanding officer of the British cruiser Belfast has arrested two of his crewmen for attempting to smuggle into the United States approximately $3 million in narcotics.

A smaller fortune in jewels also was discovered.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy and leaders of the American Medical Association conferred for nearly an hour today without resolving their impasse over Kennedy's plan to extend medical care to the aged under social security.

The doctors emerged from the President's office still flatly opposed to his plan, which they contend amounts to socialized medicine.

One Dead, Three Hurt In April-End Crashes

A fatal auto accident in Palm Desert late Monday and two accidents in Palm Springs — one with serious injury — grimly marked the end of April in this resort area.

Lincoln Ted Thomas, 68, of Eugene, Ore., was killed at 9:50 p.m. Monday when his car dived into Palm Desert with a vehicle driven by Robert M. Ratcliff, 60, of San Bernardino, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Ran Stop
The CHP said that Thomas, northbound on Portola, apparently ran a stop sign when he approached Highway 111. Thomas was pronounced dead at the scene. Ratcliff, who was held at Casa Hospital, Indio, overnight, was released today, the CHP said.

James A. Gibson of 59-871 West Highway 111, suffered major injuries in a head-on crash that demolished two automobiles on North Palm Canyon Drive in Palm Springs last night, police said.

Officers said Gibson told them he was northbound on 111 near Gateway Estates when a car coming south crossed the white line directly in front of him.

Broken Hip
Gibson was taken to Desert Hospital where attaches said his injuries included a fractured hip. Police said the driver of the second vehicle, Norman A. Ruiz of 30-6 20 San Diego Drive, apparently was unhurt.

Two young women were injured in another crash in front of 174 North Palm Canyon Drive just before 6 p.m.

Taken to Desert Hospital with neck injuries were Nancy Penny Hutchens, 1177 Mesquite, and a passenger, Judy Strada, 4361 Paseo Coralita.

Miss Hutchens told officers she stopped for a pedestrian in a crosswalk when her car was struck in the rear by another driven by Barbara Hildebrand Larson, 893 Rose Ave. Police said Mrs. Larson was not hurt.

Palm Springs Building at $902,741

Paced by the $410,000 permit for El Mirador Hotel additions, Palm Springs building permits totaled $902,741.50 in April, continuing gains over the sluggish 1961 building pace.

The April figure added to the $3,349,143.50 first quarter total for this year, which was a $334,209.50 increase over the 1961 first quarter total.

Eight dwelling permits were valued at $228,000, and 33 dwelling additions totaled $32,595.

Four apartment units, with 16 units, were valued at $106,000, three commercial permits totaled $32,000, and two church permits valued at $18,000. Trailer additions totaled $3,549.

Permits for 17 swimming pools, valued at $52,600, raised the permit total in this watery oasis to 2,707. Jack Sanders, building inspector, announced.

Employment in State Jumps

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California employment topped the 1961 level by 151,000 according to a report released Monday by Wells Fargo Bank.

The record month showed 6,079,000 persons employed. The gain was well above February which was down 13 per cent or 72,000 persons.

Business activity throughout the state, as measured by the bank's seasonally-adjusted index, reached 281 in March as opposed to 280 in February and 274 in March of last year.

Specialist Says Boom Expected In Near Future

By JACK KNUDSON

Palm Springs today is on the threshold of a gushing growth — a growth keyed to the completion of the Mt. San Jacinto Aerial Tramway and one that within a period of only two or three years will bring:

Ex-Budget Man Hits Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Maurice H. Stans, budget director in the Eisenhower administration, summoned businessmen today to battle against "the excesses of democracy," chiefly rising government spending.

Stans said "a massive assumption of responsibility by the government for cradle-to-grave welfare" was destroying states' sovereignty and replacing local self-rule with "an all-powerful central bureaucracy."

In a speech prepared for delegates to the 50th annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Stans urged businessmen to campaign for economy in government.

He said they should oppose "public power, or subsidies or tax handouts," even though they may personally benefit from them.

Stans was budget director during the last three years of the Eisenhower administration. He now is president of Western Bancorporation, a Los Angeles-based bank holding company.

Another champion of economy in government, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., predicted the federal budget deficit in the fiscal year ending June 30 would run at least $1 billion above the administration estimate of $7 billion.

Byrd told the chamber that in fiscal 1963, which starts July 1, there will be a deficit of $4 billion to $5 billion. He noted the administration was sticking to its January forecast of a slight surplus.

Stans criticized "national wage policies" which, he said, "have recognized a political balance of power in favor of labor." His criticism echoed the sentiment of many of the 4,000 chamber delegates, who feel the Kennedy administration has yet to show that its anti-inflation policy applies as vigorously to unions as it did to the steel industry.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will christen the new nuclear submarine Lafayette at the Electric Boat Co. shipyard in Groton, Conn., on May 8.

TORTOISE TIM SAYS:

Special Day on Way

Wow! Tortoise Tim was just looking over the days of the new month on his calendar, and he discovered that in less than 13 days it's Mother's Day! That is Mother's special day. Of course, you know we should make each one of the 365 days of the year "Mother's Day."

Mother's Day means Tortoise Tim's Times biggest contest of the year.

—A boost of at least $8,000,000 a year in retail sales (the estimate covering only sales subject to state sales tax).

—A doubling of tourist volume (from a present estimate of 500,000 to more than 1,000,000 a year).

—A jump in the city's permanent population to a total of at least 20,000.

From Statistics
These estimates capsule only a portion of "calculated growth of fantastic dimensions" that were forecast for Palm Springs and the surrounding desert area last night by an expert economist.

They were voiced by Harrison A. Price, economics research specialist, speaking at the second annual Coachella Valley Economic Development Conference last night at the Riviera Hotel.

Price, who said his projections were based on statistical studies of the commercial impact Disneyland made upon Orange County's Anaheim area, said the tramway should have much the same effect locally.

10 Per Cent Per Year
The tramway will add impetus to a growth pattern that covers three decades and is nowhere near saturation, Price said.

"Indications are for a continuing growth pattern of nine per cent per year," he declared, adding that "ten per cent is not out of reason and you may exceed this over the next 10 years."

"Retail sales could exceed $100,000,000 a year by 1965," (they now stand at only slightly over $40 million.)

These bright predictions came from only one of three experts who addressed a crowd of nearly 200 persons representing chambers of commerce and business leaders from throughout the Coachella Valley at the economic development conference.

Protection and support of industry already in the valley was urged by David Porter, chief of Southern Pacific Railway's Industrial Department, who pointed out that there are 483 agencies and communities in California now seeking to attract new enterprises.

"Industry is in a rush for space in the Southwest, but the most important industry is the business area already has. It should be protected and encouraged," Porter said.

Conservation of resources was stressed by two speakers, William E. Warner, director of Water Resources for California, and Dr. Cecil L. Dunn, an industrial economist for Southern Counties Gas Co.

Joel Stone, chaired the session for the co-sponsoring chambers of commerce and Riverside County Board of Trade.

$10 Million Hotel Approval Sought

A $10 million Desert Inn development — including an eight-story hotel building with approximately 400 rooms — was orally sketched before the Palm Springs City Council by developer George Alexander last night.

Alexander, who emphasized that the project was financially larger than the Tramway construction job, asked for councilmanic approval of the high-rise plans.

His proposal, backed by a delegation of Palm Springs Realtors, was underscored by an alternate plan for addition of a shop area for the Desert Inn.

Alexander told the council that he couldn't wait "two years" and needed rapid approval.

Finances Ready
"We have the complete financing — we're ready to go," Alexander said. "It can be open by Christmas of 1963."

The council told Alexander it could not legally approve a height variance without submission of the plans through normal channels, but pledged speed on consideration of the plans.

"A 90-foot hotel is not a variance," Mayor Frank Bogert said, adding that he liked the plan as outlined.

Controversial focal piece of the Desert Inn plan is an eight-story hotel building with approximately 400 rooms. The hotel building, which would cover 27,000 square feet of the 800,000 square feet of hotel grounds, would be capped by a sky-club restaurant, and feature swimming pool and a recreation area.

Convention Center
A 1,000 seat convention center, planned for a one-story, 12,000 square foot building, is set as a major addition to the city's convention facilities, Alexander said. Other major facets of the plan include:

A series of 16 "executive suite" apartments in a 19,000 square foot two-story building with a 30 foot height.

A 42,000 square foot shopping center facing Palm Canyon Drive; Over-sized parking spaces for 800 cars landscaped around the grounds; and Granting of a right-of-way for Belardo Road on an 80-foot width through the 600 feet of the Desert Inn width. The road right of way was valued at $400,000, Alexander said.

Alexander emphasized that the plan provides 300,000 square feet of improvement on 100,000 square feet of ground space, leaving 700,000 square feet for "parking and parks." The big parking lots, with 325 square feet per car, would take 280,000 square feet, leaving more than 400,000 square feet of landscaped open area, he said.

The developer told the council his hotel building plan would toe into the westward hillside, and impede neither view nor sunshine.

Parking, Station Issues Delayed

A proposed new Palm Springs off-street parking code was tabled by the city council for further study of commercial zone requirements, Monday, and gasoline stations on North Palm Canyon were shelved for a year.

The council halted the parking space ordinance after members of the audience emphasized that the proposed standards for commercial buildings would halt development or improvement in the mid-town sectors.

Going Overboard
Clarence Brechlin, speaking for the Association of Conservators and Allottees, told the council that proposals to double requirements from one space for each 400 square feet of gross floor area to one for each 200 square feet would be "going overboard." Brechlin told the council that some buildings could not be remodeled with the new standards.

Matthew Dragicevich, owner of Desert Produce, told the council that his present parking area is excessive for his needs, and that the new standards would require parking for additions that wouldn't be "one eighth to one seventh mon told the council that downtown office buildings have sufficient current parking, if customers do not use the parking lots as a public parking area.

On Residences
Brechlin told the council that proposed standards for two off-street spaces for private homes would also work a hardship on some narrow residential lots. "And how about families with three cars," Brechlin queried?

The council, on motion by Councilwoman Mrs. Mary Carlin, voted to hold North Palm Canyon service stations in abeyance for approximately one year. The council emphasized that applicants would have the right to apply, but indicated applications wouldn't be "favorably received."

Seek Approval
Mayor Frank Bogert and Vice Mayor Ted McKinney sought approval of a station or two stations on the northern entryway. Bogert said the need exists, if stations are designed so "they don't look like gas stations." McKinney emphasized that he would like to see planning and placement done now before stations would encroach on any developments.

Man Arrested on Felony Narcotics

Adolphus Bell, 21, a transient, was arrested on a felony narcotics charge yesterday after police were called to the Palm Springs Employment Agency at 135 E. Andreas Road.

Capt. Orest Johnson said Ruth Anderson of the agency called officers after Bell allegedly attempted to molest an 18-year-old girl. Bell was jailed on suspicion of sale and furnishing of narcotics after questioning by officers, Capt. Johnson said.

Fire Guts Indio Motel For $60,000

INDIO — A Monday fire gutted two rooms of a 10-unit motel here, scorched a third, and caused smoke damage to a fourth room, State Division of Forestry aides said today.

The $60,000 fire which swept through the Palm Shadow Motel at 80-761 Highway 111, is still under investigation.

Owner - manager Lynn Robert Wallace was apparently alone in the motel when cruising sheriff's deputies spotted the blaze. Sheriff's Sgt. Dwight Metcalfe and Deputy William Ketchum searched the motel units for possible sleeping occupants after raiding the fire alarm.

Fire crews from five Division of Forestry Trucks, two Indio units, and volunteers from Palm Desert responded to the blaze.

Ike Dedicates Library In His Old Hometown

ABILENE, Kan. (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower looked on today while his old hometown dedicated a new $3 million presidential library in his name.

Eisenhower heard Kansas Gov. John Anderson formally transfer the recently completed native stone structure to the federal government.

The dedication ceremonies at the library were preceded by a triumphant ride through Abilene by Eisenhower. Flags and bunting were draped everywhere, and the town closed so businessmen and school children could see the festivities.

Keynote speaker at the dedication was Dr. W. Clarke Wescoe, chancellor of the University of Kansas, who praised Eisenhower and the prairie country where he grew to manhood.

Wescoe traced the history of the Eisenhowers in Kansas and Texas where the former president was born, from the time in 1878 that seven members of the family stepped off a train in the little cowtown of Abilene.

"It is not our business today to pay tribute to the working out of the American dream," he said.

"We are not here to marvel at the strange destiny which caught up a boy who ran barefoot through the streets of Abilene and carried him to the command of the U.S. forces in Europe and a crucial moment in the nation's history.

"We are here to pay tribute to an ideal: a conservation for the future of the heritage of the past," Wescoe continued. "This is an unusual kind of library, a repository, a priceless storehouse of documents available nowhere else."

THERE'S ELATION

X15 to Try 57 Miles

EDWARDS AFB (UPI) — Space administration officials, elated over the M15's world-record, 48 1/2-mile-high flight to the edge of space, disclosed plans today for the rocket ship to fly to an altitude of 57 miles "in about a month."

"I think we'll see 300,000 feet in about a month," said X15 project manager James E. Love in the wake of Monday's 255,000-foot flight which marked the highest man ever has flown in a plane.

Federal Aviation Association (FAA) representatives were expected to submit the altitude for official world recognition.

"We've got an impressive program for flying to extremely high altitudes, and we're not going to lose any time," said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) official.

A similar expectation was voiced by NASA test pilot Joe A. Walker, 41, who shot the bullet shaped ship in its steepest climb yet during Monday's epic flight—described as "a thing of beauty."

"I don't see any reason why we can't get up that high," drawled the seemingly unperturbed veteran pilot. "Our only problem is control and re-entry."

The highest the sleek, needle-nosed X15 had flown previously was 217,000 feet—or 41 miles—by Air Force Maj. Bob White last year.

Jokes About Flight

In a joking reference to the altitude potential of the X15, the rocketeering farm boy from Washington, Pa., known for homespun wisecracks about his dangerous X15 missions, told a press conference:

"I got my first chance to look around at 240,000 feet," he added.

saying he could scan the western fringe of the United States, shut off the X15's 57,000-pound-thrust engine and was catapulted to the peak altitude by the ship's tremendous momentum.

Although the X15 hit a record altitude, the main purpose of the flight was to test high altitude control, re-entry and recovery capabilities leading to future flights of manned space vehicles. NASA officials said the mission was "fully accomplished."

Walker was launched from a B52 mother ship at 45,000 feet and then, at full throttle, rocketed into the steepest climb yet achieved by the X15. After 81

WAGNER REPORTS ON:

'Think Factory' Land

Palm Springs has 88 acres available for light "think factory" industry, but a proposed industrial park area will probably offer more attractive sites, City Manager Dan Wagner reported to the city council Monday.

Eighty of the 88 M-1 industrial zone acreage is south of Sunny Dunes Road and east of Vella Road. Wagner reported. The area permits the specialized "think factory" industry, but is primarily designed for heavier uses, Wagner explained.

The present industrial zone, excepting lands in the Sunny Dunes industrial area immediately east of South Palm Canyon Drive, is south of the airport on Ramon Road. The area is five miles from Highway 99 at Thousand Palms, and nine miles, via Indian Avenue, from the Palm Springs rail depot. It is a block or two from the city air terminal.

City planning consultant Simon Eisner had recommended an industrial zoning on East Ramon Road from the area south of the airport to the Whitewater wash. No location for the proposed industrial park has been designated. Some "related use" facilities have been discussed for the Palm Springs airport, and the council has previously indicated acceptance of the Ramon Road industrial zoning proposal.

Utility rates, regarded as high compared to neighboring communities, can be lowered for industrial uses, Wagner said. He cited a California Electric Power Co. A-4 and A-6 industrial rate, and said the gas utility also "has an advantageous rate for industries."

Palm Springs Water Co. also has a reduced commercial rate, Wagner reported.

A small school facility had formerly been in use in Thousand Palms, but was discontinued as the district grew.

The current primary enrollment from Thousand Palms is approximately half the figure the district has agreed would make construction there feasible," Miles said.

"We have several factors involved, and the tabulation of replies to these questionnaires is one of them," Dr. Lawrence M. Frederick, chairman of the department of Engineering and Technology, told The Desert Sun. Other factors involved in the course study include facilities available, staff capability for course coverage, suggestions from high school officials in the area, and courses requested by the general public.

Top industry represented in the queries is construction, with letters and questionnaires sent to 134 in both ends of the Coachella Valley, Dr. Frederick reported. Queries have been completed and returned by 35 firms now.

Agreement Reached on Purchase of Park Site

The Palm Springs Unified School District and the city have come to agreement on district purchase of a Section 2 park site for city purchase.

The question now facing the co-operating bodies is whether the land — adjacent and south of the Section 2 school under construction near Francis Drive — can be acquired for the $60,000 that the city believes it can raise for the purchase, after the district makes the first buy.

The land, owned by Rosanna Saubel, a Coachella school paper and member of the Agua Caliente band of Mission Indians, may be purchased if the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the minor allottee, and the Bank of America, her conservator agent, all agree.

The agreement — which City Attorney Jerry Bunker explains is not a binding contract — was approved in compromise revision by the school board, and will be returned for signature of Mayor Frank Bogert and the council clerk. The document will be returned to the city early this week, school business chief Jack Miles reported.

County School Taxes in All-Time High in 61-62

LOS ANGELES — Riverside County school taxes reached an all-time high of $22,512,220 for 1961-62, a 94 per cent increase over the five years since 1956-57, the California Taxpayers' Association reported.

"The taxpayers have been generous in their support of public schools, but they urge school boards to seek the strictest economy in school operations," S. J. Arnold, Cal-Tax general manager, reported. "Schools are essential, but so are solvent taxpayers Arnold added.

In addition to the property tax levies, the school district within the county have received $13,263,428 to date as the state apportionment for the year. The state monies will be supplemented by other state apportionments in some districts the CTA said.

Palm Springs Unified school District funds for the 1961-62 period totaled $2,742,374.56, 79 per cent raised from local taxes, Dr. Dwight E. Twist, superintendent, reported in a review of district finances.

Total income per average daily attendance, was $685.67 the prior year, with expenditures of $946.42 per pupil for 1960-61, Twist said. Expenditures may be approximately $677 per pupil this year, school aides estimated at the beginning of the current academic year.

Statewide property school taxation reached an all-time high of $1,227,202,749 in 1961-62, an 83 per cent increase of the $670 million total, the CTA reported. State aid will add an additional $715.2 million.

S.F. Giants Nip Bucs To Lead NL

By SCOTT BAILLIE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Manager Alvin Dark, almost daring to smile over the hot showing by his San Francisco Giants, sends lefthander Billy O'Dell to the mound tonight in quest of the club's seventh straight victory.

O'Dell, 2-0, will face either Tom Sturdivant (1-1) or rookie lefty Bob Veale (1-1) of the Pittsburgh Pirates, whom the Giants bumped out of first place Monday.

Gaylord Perry, a Giants first yearman, maintained their fine pitching criterion with a four-hit, 4-1 win over the Pirates.

"When you get pitching that good, the whole club looks good," Dark said afterward. "Everybody is playing wonderful."

Perry is the brother of Jim Perry, the veteran Cleveland righthander. While at Tacoma last season, Gaylord occasionally gave him a long distance call to get a rundown on some of the batters which the older brother might have faced.

But he didn't need any help Monday as he held the Bucs to three singles and a double, fanned the mighty Dick Stuart with a man on second, and boosted his season mark to 2-0.

"I got Stuart on a slider," Perry said, taking off a right shoe that disclosed a hole in his sock. "And I felt stronger at the finish."

Stuart was fanned in the third inning to retire the side and Perry didn't allow a hit after the fourth. He allowed two walks and retired the last 13 men to face him.

Home runs by Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays helped send Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell home early and stamp him as the 20th consecutive starter who has failed to last against the Giants.

Cepeda drove a Mizzell pitch over the right centerfield fence in the fourth inning with Mays on base to bring the score up to 4-1 after Willie had smashed a solo homer in the first inning.

Casper retained second place with $25,208 and Gene Littler was third with $23,541. Rounding out the top 10 in order were Bob Nichols $18,228, Phil Rodgers $17,989, Gary Player $15,380, Jack Nicklaus $14,673, Dow Finsterwald $14,244, Mike Souchak $14,219 and Doug Sanders $13,684.

BOX CUBS, 3-1

Dodgers Post Perfect Record Under Lights

By ART SPANDER

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The type of baseball played by the Los Angeles Dodgers this season during their home stands has differed so much from afternoon to evening it's like comparing day to night.

Although Los Angeles has won but one of five day games at its new Chavez Ravine stadium, the Dodgers turned tiger, or owl, after dark and have posted a perfect record under the lights.

When Stan Williams Monday night went the distance for the first time this season to hurl Los Angeles over the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, it extended the Dodgers' nocturnal home record to 6-0.

And there was no reason Los Angeles couldn't keep that mark intact this evening when Don Drysdale (3-1), whose fastball is hard enough to see during daylight, was scheduled to pitch against Chicago's Cal Koonce (1-0) in the second game of the series.

Williams, a 6-foot, 225-pound pitcher, had his problems during the game. Although he gave up only five hits, Stan walked five and had his infield collapse at one point.

But the crew-cut hurler managed to get out of his various scrapes, struck out eight, and pitched nine innings to gain his first win of the year against a loss.

A disappointment in his early games this year—he was banished to the bullpen for a week—Williams' performance enabled the Dodgers to display a little optimism.

"Williams had real good stuff for a guy who hasn't pitched for awhile," explained Dodger manager Walt Alston.

Another item that buoyed Los Angeles hopes for the long, long

National League season was a smattering of power hitting.

Wally Moon whacked a double in the first inning for the Dodgers' first extra base blow in five games. Later on, Andy Carey upped the Dodgers' 2-1 lead with his second homer of the season.

After Chicago picked up its only run of the game on two Los Angeles errors and a double steal in the fourth inning the Dodgers jumped back in the fifth inning for two runs.

With Norm Sherry on second base after a single and wild pitch, Willis grounded to Andre Rodgers who heaved the ball into the Dodger dugout attempting to get Sherry scurrying for third.

Norm scored.
Jim Gilliam then singled home Willis who had taken second to make the score 2-1. Carey's homer provided the final score of the game.

SENATORS third baseman John Schaive, No. 6, straddles wall near home plate in effort to catch foul fly hit into stands. The ball, shown just leaving Schaive's glove, was jarred from his grasp by fan immediately behind him. Play came in 4th inning and the catcher is Ken Retzer. (UPI Telephoto)

TORRES REPLACES YOST

'Bo' on Mound Tonight Against Cleveland

CLEVELAND (UPI) —Bo Belinsky, who appears to be making good his predictions in spring training that he would make the major league grade and merit a pay raise, shoots for his third victory tonight for the Los Angeles Angels against the Cleveland Indians.

The New Jersey southpaw, holding a 2-0 mark, faced 19-year-old Sam McDowell.

"I don't see why I shouldn't win here," the cocky rookie said. "I beat them before so what's to worry?"

In spring training, the cocksure hurler got in a contract dispute with the Angel management over salary. After several days of brow-beating, charges and countercharges, a contract was signed with the stipulation that should Belinsky prove to be of major league caliber he would receive an agreed upon raise.

Belinsky last week whipped the Indians, 6-2, to become the second Angel hurler to go the distance. He fanned eight batters and scattered four hits with his fast ball and screwball.

Backing Bo will be little Albie Pearson, who clubbed six doubles and a triple in three games against the Detroit Tigers for a blistering .500 average. Pearson leads the Angel hitters with a .297 average.

Manager Bill Rigney will make one change in the Angel lineup.

INDIAN WELLS CC

Kelly's Twosome Wins 'Pow Pow'

Jack Kelly and his partner John Tanza copped the 5th Annual Indian Wells Country Club "Pow Pow" 54 hole invitational golf tourney as they slipped in three strokes ahead of the field with a total score of 260.

AFL Games Televised Again in '62

NEW YORK (UPI) — For the third straight season, the American Broadcasting System will telecast American Football League games this year.

According to a joint announcement Monday by the network and the AFL, a total of 15 Sunday games, one Saturday afternoon contest and one game on Thanksgiving Day, plus the championship game will be televised by ABC-TV.

The exact games to be televised were not announced. Neither was the sum paid to the league for the telecasting rights. As in the past two years, ABC will televise two games each Sunday, one in the East and one in the West.

Mrs. Kelly Wins Golf Event at Bermuda Dunes

The Bermuda Dunes Country Club Women's Golf Auxiliary closed out its season with a Party Day tournament and Mrs. W. W. Kelly won low net honors with a score of 78.

Second place winner was Mr. Edward Coffey with a score of 80 and third place was won by Mrs. Allan Dauch with a total of 81 blows.

Mrs. Jack Foley took top honors in low putts with a total of 33.

Thomas Lieb, Former Loyola Coach Dies

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Thomas Lieb, former head football coach at Loyola University of Los Angeles and world record holder in the discus, died Monday of a heart attack.

The twosome of Bucky Harris and Ray Lowell won runner-up honors as they toured the 54 holes in a total of 263 to be only three strokes back of the leaders.

Tied for the next spot with scores of 268 were the teams of Phil Weintraub and Charles Resnick who posted the same total as Don Bollman and John McGrath. Next came the team of L. J. Around Town

WITH HILLY CRAWFORD

Tuesday, May 1, 1962
Palm Springs, California

The Desert Sun 7

Just one week after her 83rd birthday, which she celebrated quietly, Auntie Pearl McManus hosted a dinner dance at the Tennis Club for over 100 friends. It was like old times, when Auntie Pearl presided over so many parties in the beautiful club.

Typical of this gracious hostess, the spotlight went on Elaine and Harry Chaddick, who were celebrating their seventh anniversary, and danced the anniversary waltz to Tony Rose's music.

Seating at the dinner tables had been arranged by having every one draw numbers, and it seemed pretty coincidental that Harry and Elaine drew the same table, but they swear it was an honest draw.

Harry, who has helped with Chicago's zoning for so many years, has interesting ideas on Palm Springs' needs and thinks we are at a critical point for making decisions that will affect the future of the Village — that's really a city. His own summer plans for the Tennis Club involve building new bungalows on the mountain side without scarring the slopes. He will use the use of elevators and, by the way, there isn't an elevator in town that compares with Tennis Club's or that is more appreciated.

Auntie Pearl's party was one of the nicest of the spring dinner dances, with familiar faces at every table. Among them were Helen and Jim Abernathy (she was so impressed with The Villagers, singing at the Press Club Party that she put them under contract), the Walter Brunmarks (they were just down overnight and have been much missed this winter), the Joseph Cianos, Zaddie Bunker, the Edward Bannings (one of her first appearances since her illness), the Charles Irwins, Frank Bogert (he was emcee as he has been so often at the Tennis Club), Ed Dillon, Edith and Dick Edwards, Ruby Fallgren and her sister who is visiting her, Muriel Fulton, the Joe Hales, Mrs. William B. Malouf (Billy is recuperating nicely and Vicki is her old happy self), the S. P. Manasses, Hortense Murray, the Dolph Oberfelds, Madge Phillips, Allan and Mary Jones, Wrenn and Will Tevis, Dan Wagners, George Wheelers, Mrs. Harold Bell Wright, Earl Coffmans, Joe Forggatts, Sterling Pailings, Cyrilla Holland, and quite a few others, including Joan McManus, who was assistant hostess.

Vivian Austin was brought down to Desert Hospital yesterday, and is making good recovery but cannot have visitors yet.

An interesting development in the cultural life of Palm Springs has been the art galleries and exhibits that are a direct outgrowth of the numerous painting classes . . . so that we have become a Laguna-of-the-desert.

O. E. L. Graves, who was one of the early members of the growing art colony, has provided a couple of surprises, himself, this winter, first with his Renaissance porcelains and second with his portraits.

Another portrait, done in this fascinating Renaissance style was unveiled Sunday night at the cocktail gathering held at the Graves' San Lorenzo Road home. It doesn't seem possible but this is the best yet and Bud has succeeded in topping himself again. The portrait, done in greens and blues that accentuate the long dark hair, is of Lissome Leeann, daughter of Andrea and Bob Howard, and the only word that really describes it is that old-fashioned, overworked one of "just plain beautiful." It makes you wish you could have Bud paint a portrait of everyone you love.

There was a crowd of about 60 there for the unveiling and to view some of Bud's other new paintings (by painting the nights away he is a prolific painter.)

In the crowd were the Earl Buckinghams, Harry Joe Browns, Doyle Cottons, Harry Chaddicks, Kenneth Kirks, Carl Lesermans, Lou Manseau (Ruth will have her second operation in a week or so), Lily Pons, Evelyn and Sydney Schiff, the Ray Shelys, Mrs. Fred Halliday, Bertine Treat, Mari and Stewart Williams and many more.

Lily Pons has dark hair again (there are two schools of thought on this . . . some prefer Lily as an ash blonde and some think she's better as a brunette. Me, I just like Lily.)

Lily hosted a small cocktail party for the Eisenhowers before they left for Gettysburg, and they were delighted with the view of Palm Springs from her little hill-top home. Among the guests were her neighbors, the Ted Larsens, who have left for Connecticut since then, Lisa Gallois, Earl Grant and Pliny Munger.

Arriving this weekend as Lily's houseguests will be Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Grimes of Texas, and the three of them will drive back to Dallas together about the middle of May. They will go by way of Carlsbad Caverns, which Lily has never seen.

THIS MOB SCENE at Rim Rocks Restaurant provides eloquent evidence that the Twist still is taking Palm Springs by storm. The hip-revolving ritual, which has claimed a glittering list of aficionados from the White House to Europe's drawing rooms, has turned Rim Rocks into a nightly fun palace. And, thanks to the Twist pointers passed out by twistmaster Roy Randolph and hostess Nena Rose, the ranks of Twisters keeps multiplying like crazy.

Governor Supports Bond Vote

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown here strongly supported $370 million in school and state construction bond issues on the June 5 ballot and called for an all-out effort to improve California education.

"California now is under pressure to build at least one new school every day in the year," Brown told the California Conference on Investing in Skilled Manpower for the 60's. "This is the greatest challenge public education ever has faced."

"It is essential that these bond issues pass. I will support them vigorously—and I hope every other candidate for office will also get behind the school bond issues all the way," he said.

One of the bond issues, for $200 million, is earmarked for building loans to local school districts. The other, for $270 million, is designed to finance state buildings, university, state college and junior college construction.

The governor, who is on a Southern California campaign swing, also defended federal aid to education as having good results.

"There is no interference with local autonomy," he said. "The argument that federal aid to education would invite dictation from Washington has been proved false. It is merely a tired repetition of a state philosophy that is out of step with the time."

Palm Springs Can Take A Tourist Lesson From Bermuda Islanders

With Palm Springs emphasis on promoting the tourist trade, the city's business leaders could learn something from Bermuda on how to make good will ambassadors of their taxi drivers.

Newsmen who visited the British tourist resort recently on the first voyage of the newly reconditioned Furness liner Queen of Bermuda, were struck by the friendliness of the men who drive the little surrey-topped cars, that serve as taxis in the islands.

The cabbies also are excellent. They are usually members of the 350-year-old colony and thoroughly acquainted with its points of interest, the names of its flowers and birds, the rates prevailing at the hotels and just about anything else a visitor would want to know.

The Bermuda government achieves this rare display of courtesy and knowledgeability by awarding badges and diplomas to taxi drivers who can pass a stiff test on Bermuda's history and folklore and show a thorough familiarity with the island's high highways and byways.

Since the badge-wearing group is considered elite, the awards are much in demand and most taxi drivers have them. Those who don't sooner or later get caught on some minor infraction like exceeding the 20-mile-an-hour speed limit. This results in suspension of their driving licenses, restoration of which is made contingent on passing the test.

Almost all Bermuda taxis are radio-controlled and a telephone call to a cab company usually brings a taxi to your door within five or 10 minutes.

Though the taxi drivers are considered the front-line troops in charming the more than 100,000 Americans who visit Bermuda annually, the sales clerks in the stores also are noted for their courtesy.

This is because Bermuda shop assistants usually are members of the island's leading families. With the whole economy revolving around the tourist trade, how else is a self-respecting young man or woman to make a living except in Uncle John's drygoods store?

And since all Bermudians are related in some manner, what's wrong with referring a customer to another store if the desired item happens to be out of stock in your own? Indeed, who gets hurt if you phone third-cousin Bill to make sure he has the article before you send the customer around?

These little courtesies always amaze the tourist, but Bermudians consider them routine, just as their inborn civic pride prevents them from scattering fruit peels and candy wrappers in the streets. This inherent neatness is the main reason why the streets of busy little Hamilton, the island's capital are immaculate.

Half Truths Are Wholly Deceptive

There is an old saying, attributed to a politician attacking an opponent, that figures never lie but that liars often figure. But it is equally true that while figures never lie, they can be presented in a manner that seems to add up to something besides the right answer.

That is the negative approach. In a Television Bureau presentation was the "report" on a George Gallup in which the question was asked:

"Do you usually read newspaper ads?" The TV Bureau printed the answers: No, Women, 29 per cent, Men, 38 per cent. The concluding thought on the Bureau page was:

"Forward-looking mass merchandizers quickly recognized that they could not possibly dominate in the newspaper ads—therefore looked to other media to reach customers."

What the TV people did not say that the figures in the poll showed that 71 per cent of the women usually DO read the newspaper advertising — and that 62 per cent of the men usually do.

Neither mentioned was that portion of the poll on reading habits which revealed that 60 per cent of the women reported that they usually consulted advertising in newspapers before they shop. Can the TV Bureau make the same claim?

In a recent survey by the Bureau of Advertising as published in The Editor and Publisher, the magazine of the newspaper profession, this significant fact was brought to light:

"My local newspaper tells me where I can buy things."

That statement was made by 82 per cent of the people interviewed. In this category, radio was 30 percentage points behind with TV third and magazines fourth.

A major portion of any advertising effort is lost, it seems to us, when a customer is attracted, interested and motivated into buying — but is not informed where he can make the purchase.

Newspapers, being local, can do that better than any other advertising medium and retail merchants know it.

Most heartening of all in the survey—answers indicated that newspapers are such a "Wanted Commodity" that two-thirds of the public would be willing to pay 15 cents a copy for their daily newspaper, an increase of 50 to 200 per cent of what they pay now.

Back to the TV Bureau's indifference to subtraction in its report on the Gallup poll. Some of the data they did not report but was listed in the poll, revealed that 60 per cent of the public relied on newspapers for their information of what's going on in the world, 52 per cent from TV, 21 per cent from radio and 18 from magazines. Two per cent didn't know.

In the local news field, 72 per cent of those polled said they received their information from the newspapers as against 24 per cent from TV and 21 from radio.

These are ALL of the figures, not just a portion and that portion presented in a negative way. You never can arrive at the right answer if only a small part of the figures are shown.

The net of this is that we can come to the conclusion that the newspaper — and especially your local newspaper — is the best medium for your advertising message and also as a source of information, worldwide and local.

Careful, the Fire Season Is On

If you are planning a trip into the mountain area, remember, the fire hazard season starts today. All laws designed to prevent forest fires are in effect and will be strictly enforced from now on until the rains come again.

Following a winter of better than average rainfall, there was a lush growth of grasses which are now beginning to dry out and create a potentially dangerous fire hazard in the mountain watershed areas.

Forestry officials have sounded their annual appeal to the public to use extreme caution in the use of all fire.

"No Smoking" signs have been posted in all areas in the National Forests and, according to the rangers, they mean what they say. Smoking outside of occupied places of habitation where "Smoke Here" signs are posted, can mean a heavy fine. Smoking is prohibited elsewhere whether traveling on foot, by horseback or in any form of vehicle.

All ordinances and laws covering fire prevention are in full force and if going into the mountains for any purpose except an outing at an established resort, it might be well to consult these before starting.

As Smokey, the Bear, says:

"Only you can start a fire."

Please be careful and don't.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Clear It With the Establishment

WASHINGTON, D. C. — For those who suspect that "democracy" is a slogan, but not a way of government, there is some documentary proof in a current Esquire magazine article by Richard Rovere which will surely make you wonder if the American people really run this country.

The suspicion is not new, and Rovere's proof is not exactly out of whole cloth either. For years we simple folk have often spoken vaguely of clandestine manipulators, called "they" who are the inside movers of big issues which shake the country, notably Share America issues like foreign aid, integration and internationalism.

In recent times "they" have been called the Liberal Establishment, or plain Establishment. William Buckley, proprietor, National Review magazine, has often called the Establishment by name. Thomas Waring, editor of the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier fingered the establishment on October 18, 1961, a an underground force which "makes its influence felt from the President's Cabinet . . . to the young college teacher who wants to obtain a foundation grant for research."

Without the Establishment's clearance a major Cabinet officer cannot get his post in the first place, or keep it very long. Unless the young research professor takes the Establishment's loyalty oath, he simply will not get a money grant out of Ford, Rockefeller or Carnegie Foundation, to cite only those named by Rovere.

One More Accuser

There is one more recent accuser of the Establishment, although he called it the Apparatus and linked it to the Communist conspiracy which Waring, Buckley, Rovere and we simple folk never do. Major General Walker was asked before the Stennis Preparedness Subcommittee to name names. The first one he gave was

Dean Rusk, Secretary of State. In the Esquire article Rovere, himself usually regarded as an enemy of the Establishment, says:

"I am not sure who the chairman of the Establishment is today, although I would not be altogether surprised to learn that he is Dean Rusk."

Rovere's article is of value for the very reason that he does name names in discussing the Undercover Elite who rule America, regardless of what party holds the White House or organizes the Congress. Probably an equivalent situation has existed in the USA since the anti-Democratic Hamilton saw to it that the pro-Republican Federal Constitution was written and adopted. Rovere regards Theodore Roosevelt as the first modern-day Establishment President. T. R. was backed against the political organizations much as the Establishment's John F. Kennedy was backed first against Lyndon B. Johnson and then against Richard M. Nixon, both anti-establishment men.

If we accept the necessity of an intellectual Elite to run the country from behind the scenes, we have a right to ask if the Elite is for the country or against it. Waring, Buckley and Walker are taking a four-square stand on this, but Rovere doesn't editorialize. Rovere gives a deadpan recital of proper names which define the Establishment's position. The informed reader may use the following checklist to reach his own conclusions or to suspend them for further evidence. The checklist based on Rovere's article would read:

What Is The Policy

What is the Establishment's public policy in general? Those ideas which have the support of the New York Times editorial page, Book Review and Sunday Magazine sections.

What are the two ideas from which no dissent or deviation is permitted? The first includes all forms of internationalism (specifically foreign aid and eventual "association" of the USA with the European Common Market.) The second includes all forms of racial mixing, headed by school integration. (It is notable that one of the few "white" Southerners in the Establishment is Senator William Fulbright whose extreme internationalism compensates for his segregationist position which all Liberals consider as being an insincere reelection gambit.)

Does the Establishment "mix" politics and religion? Yes, for there are some high-standing ecclesiastical members such as the Reverend Reinhold Niebuhr, Bishop Angus Dun, and, of course, Dr. Martin Luther King.

What are the left-to-right limits of liberalism as the Establishment sees them? Walter Reuther is about as far Left and Dwight Eisenhower about as far Right as the Establishment permits its members and favorites to stray. Is the Establishment honestly non-partisan? The Establishment holds itself high above both Democratic and Republican parties. Just before the 1960 Republican Convention, Governor Rockefeller forced Vice President Nixon to rewrite the GOP platform so that it was indistinguishable from the Democratic platform drafted by Chester Bowles.

Do the Russians know all this? The Soviet leaders probably comprehend it better than American leaders. When Khrushchev told a visiting columnist that Nelson Rockefeller controlled John Kennedy, the Red Dictator was not mixed up. He meant that the Rockefeller Foundation (which supplied JFK with Secretary Rusk) is a prime mover of the Establishment which can make the President of the United States do anything it wants him to do.

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

And next comes June, That time of year, Don't look for me, I won't be here.

Vacation time is coming into sight around the curve. I'm all set to clamber aboard.

I OFTEN HAVE been maligned by unthinking people who say I have a one-track mind. Like in the winter it's Santa Anita, in the summer, Hollywood, and in the early fall, Del Mar. That is a base canon. I have a two-track mind. Horses run on one and trains on the other. Right now, I'm on the latter.

AT OUR HOUSE you can always tell when it's May.

Mrs. G. sets up a card table next to my home desk and typewriter. The desk and pull-up (or down) flaps on the typewriter stand won't hold all of the literature which I start accumulating. That table is beginning to disappear from sight under the orderly mess of time-tables of all three railroads serving southern California and most of those serving the Midwest.

IT'S INTERESTING reading as I compare schedules, Pullmans and lounge cars — also prices. The latter is to see how far I can go on round-trip about ways without adding a lot of scratch to the price of the tickets.

I was sitting there weighing the advantages and vice-versa of the S. Fe, the U. P., S. P., W. P., G. N., N. P., and C. M. ST. P. & P. When my mind was suddenly made up.

Mrs. G. laid down a sheet of paper covered with figures like 3:45 p.m. PST, 4:45 p.m. PDT, and some MST and CST and CDT markings. Also some more figures which had $ in front of them.

"Your reservations are all made, going and coming," she said, "Now how about those dollar signs?"

Looks like I'm all set for June 7 except the packing. And she'll do that.

SPEAKING OF TRAVELING, Wilma Fiolek has just returned from a tour up northwest and says that eight miles south of Homedale, Idaho, at the state border there's a big sign:

ALL CALIFORNIANS MUST BE DIPPED ON ENTERING IDAHO.

She couldn't understand it. If it has been "strapped" I could tell her. Because that way you have to go through Nevada to get into Idaho from California.

Perhaps Idaho has been listening to our primary campaign speeches and thinks we have the Foot and Mouth disease. So many politicians seem to be opening their mouths and putting their feet in the arm.

THERE'S MUCH TALK about enticing industry, compatible with our image, our Way of Life, to Palm Springs.

Well, that's all right. We probably need something to give us another shot in the arm.

But there's one I hope they won't lure here.

Like the one they just opened at El Centro — to dehydrate onions. Especially if they build it upwind.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: My telephone just rang for the third time in two hours, and that was the straw that broke the camel's back. After dropping my work and nearly breaking my neck over the children's toys, I was asked to buy a certain product. What about starting a campaign to stop this sort of thing? When I want to buy something I'll go to the store, and I'm sure not going to buy the product that is advertised by someone who called me on the phone and disturbed my work.

IRENE

DEAR IRENE: Telephone solicitation gives employment to those who cannot leave their homes. But although the callers are guiltless themselves, I think the sponsors of such intrusive advertising make more enemies than friends.

DEAR ABBY: Would it look funny for a bride to wear flat-heeled shoes at her wedding because, if she wore high heels, she would be taller than the groom?

TALL ONE

DEAR TALL: Unless your future husband is loaded with confidence, better wear the flats and let him be taller. (Anyway, who looks at a bride's feet when her face is glowing with happiness?)

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of six children. They are all under 12, so I give quite a few birthday parties during the year. I also give little Easter parties, Valentine parties and Halloween parties. My problem is this:

When we send the invitations we always state clearly: "The party is from 1:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m.—Saturday afternoon."

Now every time I have a party about half the children just stay around until I take them home. Do you think this is right? Maybe I am being small about it, but I get annoyed when this happens. How can this be prevented without hurt feelings?

PARTY-GIVING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You could phone the "guilty" mothers (about 5:30 p.m.) and ask them if they intend to come for their children. Otherwise, prepare to deliver them to their respective homes and forget it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TOO MUCH TOO SOON": It's never too late to reform. Start giving nothing—and right now.

For a personal (unpublished) reply to your problem, send Abby a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Word comes that President Kennedy is easing the punitive assault on steel. He had better. It would not go down well for the White House to be vindictive. The other side yielded. Under fierce pressure, to be sure, but it yielded. More one cannot require. Yet for a while the posse went on picking up speed and it looked as if big steel was to be pilloried.

It is to everyone's advantage, and particularly the President's, that the victor hold out his hand. The national interest, which Mr. Kennedy likes to cite, calls for getting back to the constructive, steel settlement worked out earlier, and encouraging everyone else to pattern it.

We are glad to see the President even several days after the match is over, acting the sportsman.

BOB CONSIDINE:

De Gaulle Can Give The O.A.S. Trouble

NEW YORK. — The embattled and often lonely Charles De Gaulle, so near and yet so far from his dream of peace in Algeria, once wrote the remedy for the agony of such pressures.

"... All men at heart realize the supreme value of self-reliance, and know that without it there can be no action of value," this remarkable and sublimely simple man wrote in his "The Edge of the Sword" (Criterion). "In the last resort, we must, to quote Cicero, 'Judge all conduct in the light of the best examples available.' For nothing great has ever been achieved without that passion and that confidence which is to be found only in the man of character."

"Alexander would never have conquered Asia, Galileo would never have demonstrated the movement of the earth, Columbus would never have discovered America, nor Richelieu have restored the authority of the Crown, had they not believed in themselves and taken full control of the task in hand. Boileau would never have established the laws of classic taste, Napoleon would never have founded an empire, Lesseps would never have pierced the Isthmus of Suez, Bismarck would never have achieved German unity, nor Clemenceau have saved his country, had they hearkened to the counsels of shortsighted prudence or the promptings of fainthearted modesty."

"... Those who have done great deeds have often had to take the risk of ignoring the routine aspects of discipline. Examples are plentiful."

"Pelissier at Sebastopol stuffing the Emperor's threatening dispatches into his pocket unopened and reading them only after the action was over, Lanrezac saving his army after Charleroi by breaking of the battle, contrary to orders, Lyautey keeping the whole of Morocco in 1914, in the teeth of instructions issued at a higher level. After the Battle of Jutland and the English failure to take the opportunity offered them of destroying the German fleet, Admiral Fisher, then First Sea Lord, exclaimed in a fury after reading Jellicoe's dispatch: 'He has all Nelson's qualities but one: He doesn't know how to disobey!'"

What chumps, the O.A.S., to try to fight a man of De Gaulle's colossal confidence and sense of being one with history.

Henri Soule, one of New York's master restaurateurs, forwards an item for the Department of Further Amplification, in respect to a recent piece here concerning the uneasiness with which many out-of-towners approach the better New York restaurants:

"I had no idea that such a sad situation as you describe existed," Henri writes. "For many years I have had the privilege of meeting and entertaining in my places thousands of visitors to New York, many of them having come from all four corners of the world. None of these people has been timid or seemed to feel out of place. 'Out-of-towners' are every bit as charming, cultured, sophisticated and wealthy as our own local society."

That's an exclusive understatement.

Joseph O. Sisco, of Medford, Mass., read our interview with the Governor of Nebraska about humane and industrial uses for the U. S. farm surpluses, and comes up with a suggestion.

"In connection with the channeling of food to advance our cause overseas let us consider the cases of two American heroes, Richard Recteau and John Downey, U. S. civilians attached to the Air Force being held prisoners by the Communist Chinese. These two men have been held since the Korean War. Why haven't we offered the Chinese some of our surplus in exchange for these men?"

"They have never broken under Red pressures, have never falsified the U.S. in crimes or atrocities against humanity. They are representative of all our American ideals of loyalty and love of country and should be returned home as examples for our young people."

"China could use the food which is going to waste in costly warehouses. And their families, and all of America, could use Recteau and Downey."

Worth a trial. We lose sight of the fact that U. S. and Red Chinese diplomats have been jangling off and on about Recteau, Downey and others since shortly after the 1955 Summit. Perhaps, if it has not already been proposed and rejected, food could be the answer.

Letters to The Editor

The Desert Sun

Dear Sir: A letter from the headmaster of a local school (Mr. J. Blake Field, the Palm Valley School), which you published recently, contained some opinions about UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, which may not remain unchallenged.

It is of course Mr. Field's privilege to believe that there is "so much doubt and question" about UNICEF in the minds of certain people, even if there was little doubt in the mind of President John F. Kennedy when he stated: "The United Nations Children's Fund has worked tirelessly and effectively across national boundaries to help children escape the threat of hunger and disease . . . We can feel proud of the cooperative effort which has enabled UNICEF to carry out its work."

What we deem inadmissible, in your reader's letter is the statement that "UNICEF, as it is now set up and directed, does not merit the support and approval of the American people." "UNICEF — Facts and Fallacies," explicitly shows how the Children's Fund is "set up and directed," and fundamentally contradicts your reader's statement. It is being sent to him, and will also be mailed gladly, free of charge, to any of your other readers who wish to form their own opinions.

Yours most sincerely,
Victor de Keyserling
